

CORONAVIRUS Clause AND OTHER CAUSES OF FORCE MAJEURE OR INCIDENTAL CASE

NOD aims to prepare the new generation of dancers and is composed of a team of teachers and collaborators who work well in advance to plan a calendar, to be carried out in person, full of incredible artists and that for 11 months per year and sees very few interruptions. However, we would like to inform you that NOD will do everything possible to hold the lessons in person when possible, always with teachers up to the level of the course, but if necessary will move the program online according to times and methods that will be communicated by e-mail.

The dancer acknowledges and accepts that NOD cannot in any case be held responsible in the event that there is a breach or partial breach of contract due to consequence of events due to fortuitous events and / or force majeure (by way of example but not limited to, regulatory provisions and / o national and / or supranational and / or regional and / or local laws, and / or any fact and / or act of the judicial and / or administrative authority beyond the control of NOD, fires, explosions, earthquakes, floods, pandemics, revolutions, wars, calamities, etc.) and therefore renounces any reimbursement and / or compensation and / or compensation of any nature or kind (e.g. vouchers) as well as expressly renounces it both in the event that it is impossible to follow the online course or the course could not be held due to impediments independent of NOD's will.

When will the Program be moved online?

If and when the cause of "force majeure" or "fortuitous event" involves social distancing and the online connection is possible and / or permitted and in any case not particularly onerous for NOD

By way of example and not limited to: (i) if and when within the group, one or more students have symptoms attributable to the virus or cases of positivity occur; (ii) if the teacher / s shows symptoms attributable to the virus or otherwise / not positive / s; (iii) for any problem related and / or consequent and / or directly or indirectly connected to force majeure or unforeseeable circumstances that cause delay or impossibility of carrying out the lesson in the presence of the scheduled guest artist (e.g. cancellation of flights from part of the airlines, closure of borders, request for additional tests, changes on travel restrictions, physical impossibility of the artist, etc ..)
